Just Received A Car Load Of WIDE TRACK STOUGHTON WAGONS

This wagon is manufactured at Stoughton, Wis., by Stoughton Wagon Co. They have the largest wagon factory in United States and have been making the Stoughton since 1865.

This wagon is built out of A-grade, air cured timber and every piece guaranteed and the wagon is built according to Government specifications.

The Stoughton has the straight double front hound, which is the strongest that can be put in a wagon.
The wheels have 14 and 16 dodged spokes, extra large oak hubs and two piece bent oak rims. A stronger wheel could not be built.

The patent dust proof skeins are moulded in a way to hold grease and keep out the dust with less friction, and are reinforced in a way that makes a stronger skein and a lighter running wagon.

The axles have a steel truss rod under them, which extends through the skeins and securely holds them in place and makes the axle much stronger.

The bottom of the box is made of long leaf yellow pine, the side boards are made of cottonwood and have angle iron strap bolts with brace at rear end of box.

The paint is put on by hand and not dipped like almost all other wagons.

There is nothing left off the Stoughton wagon that could be added to make it better.

Don't fail to see this wagon before buying elsewhere.

This wagon is sold and guaranteed by

SOUND BUSINESS BASIS FOR CHURCH

Interchurch World Movement Natural Growth Of Tendency To Eliminate Waste

AVOIDS USELESS COMPETITION

Religious Financiering Revolutionized By Success Of Men And Millions Movement And Co-operation Is Result

The Interchurch World Movement of North America is an attempt by forward-looking leaders of the various evangelical denominations of the United States and Canada to co-ordinate the resources in men, money and material for Protestant America.

Historically it is the logical outgrowth of a tendency of the national boards in each denomination to form working alliances among themselves, in which each board shall preserve its identity and control its own personnel and treasury.

In former times, the home mission society, the foreign mission society, the church extension society and the various philanthropic and elemosy-nary agencies of any denomination conducted their affairs independently of one another. Each surveyed its own restricted territory, prepared a budget of money and workers for its own purposes and made its own appeal to its constituency for support.

This could only mean that these agencies were more or less in competition with one another; that there were waste and duplication of work and money, and that among them all some work was neglected and some denominational resources were entirely overlooked. Because of their specialized training, the leaders of each agency regarded themselves as peculiarly fitted for their tasks, and jealously regarded attempts at outside interference.

Decide On Experiment
After decades of such haphazard methods, the leaders of one denomination decided on an experiment. They thought it would be possible for the agencies to get together for a common study of all the opportunities and resources of their brotherhood, to make out a unified budget of men and money, and to conduct a concerted appeal for funds. It was made clear that each constituent board should preserve complete autonomy.

When the board representatives met they found it possible to eliminate a great amount of organization expenses. They ultimately worked out a budget and plan of campaign that was satisfactory to all. This resulted in the famous "Men and Millions Movement" of the Disciples of Christ, which brought in what was then considered the staggering sum of $6, 300,000 for a five-year program. The members of the communion were so pleased with this business-like method of conducting affairs that they contributed even more generously than had been expected.

The success of this enterprise revolutionized the whole business of church financiering. The other great denominations immediately adopted the plan. The denominational associations have come to be known as "forward movements," and some thirty of them are in existence today. Each one has clarified all the information in relation to enterprise within the denomination, and has reduced the business of collecting and spending money to a science.

World-Budget Formed
The Interchurch World Movement is simply a plan to do interdenominational-ly what the forward movements have done within the various communities. It means that every denominational budget will be made in the light of world needs instead of in the semi-obscurity of incomplete information. It means that contributions to one denomination will not be in wasteful competition with contributions to another, because all the fellowships will have worked out their program together.

The functions of the Interchurch World Movement are threefold. First, it collects, by means of world surveys, all the pertinent facts on which denominational programs may be built.
Second, it sets up the practical machinery of co-operation. Third, it acts in an advisory capacity whenever its advice is requested.

The Movement has nothing to do with organic church union or matters of creed or doctrine. Each constituent unit preserves complete autonomy, and is bound only so far as it wishes to be bound. Financial appeals are made by each denomination to its own constituency. Any surplus in undesignated funds, over and above the actual cost of administration, will be prorated among the denominations engaged in a given financial undertaking.

An illustration of one thing the Movement can do is to be found in a western community of 1,600 persons in which thirteen denominations have been supporting separate churches with missionary funds. While an adjacent territory of 50,000 persons has only three churches. By seeing that all missionary boards are supplied with information in such cases, the Movement will make possible a wiser distribution of funds.

Its first goals are to reduce unnecessary duplication and overlapping to a minimum and to bring about an intelligent division of labor in unoccupied fields.

McLemore Farm For Division Among Heirs Adjoining Corporate Limits of Spring Hill, Maury County, Tenn.

ON THE PREMISES

Wednesday, Sept. 15, 10:30 A. M.

The splendid farm has been in the McLemore family for more than 100 years.

We will sell at public auction, the fine farm and home of the late Mrs. Ellie McLemore containing 815 rich, level and gently rolling acres, practically all subject to cultivation with tractors, but mostly seeded to blue grass, orchard grass, red clover and timothy; now being operated as a stock farm. Owners have sold $20,000 worth of fine beef cattle in the last two weeks. It is known as one of the best and finest blue grass, stock, grain and dairy farms in the state. Located right in the very heart of "The Dimole of the Universe," in the beautiful Spring Hill Valley known far and near as the richest and most desirable section in Williamson and Maury counties. It is adjoining the excellent little town of Spring Hill, noted for its schools and churches, being the home of the famous Branham & Hughes Preparatory School for both boys and girls, which is second to none in the South, and is accredited by all colleges and universities throughout the United States.

This fine farm is ten miles north of Columbia, 10 miles south of Franklin and only 30 miles south of Nashville, with L. & N. Railroad and the great national Jackson Highway, connecting the Great Lakes and the Gulf of Mexico, now being completed through Spring Hill. The estate extends from one pike to another, with good pike through farm, and is surrounded by fine farms and beautiful homes, and such neighbors as the Chairs, Tollies, Judge Faw, Browns, Whitfields, and others; in fact it is in one of the very best communities in the state.

The improvements consist of a handsome 2-story, 10-room residence with slate roof and in splendid condition overlooking Spring Hill and surrounded by a large, shady, blue-grass lawn, making it one of the most desirable homes in this section. It also has a large stock barn, 70x100 feet, covered with new galvanized iron and in splendid condition; 1 large new cattle barn and silo 60x80 feet, that accommodates about 150 head of cattle; a large new tool shed, servants quarters, tenant houses and numerous other outbuildings—in fact, everything needed on an up-to-date farm and home. It is well fenced and splendidly watered by everlasting springs and spring branches through the farm.

The farm has been subdivided and will be sold in eight separate tracts containing 50 to 260 acres, each tract having a long pike frontage and beautiful building site, each and every one a splendid farm and home for some one.

Here is a chance for homeseekers to own a splendid farm and home in any size tract you want, right in the very best section of Middle Tennessee and adjoining fine churches, high schools, colleges, banks, railroad, fine markets, best pikes and among the best people, AT YOUR OWN PRICE. Look this over, select your tract or tracts and REMEMBER the farm must be sold for division, and every tract will have to be sold regardless of price.

All live stock, including 5 fine mules, horses, saddle pony, milk cows and calves, farming implements of all kinds, household and kitchen furniture and other personal property, will be sold.

TERMS—One-fifth cash, paid or secured until January 1, 1921; balance 1, 2, 3 and 4 years, with 6 per cent interest. Immediate possession.

Lunch and other refreshments served on the grounds by ladies of the Spring Hill churches.

For further information and to be shown the property, phone, write or see Mr. Porter on premises. Phone No. 10, Spring Hill, Tenn., or

Farming Is a Business

And like every business, it requires forms, records and blanks that give you the facts about your farm, just as a business man has them about his business.

We print forms and letterheads (every business farmer should have his own letterhead) on Hammermill Bond, the Utility Business Paper.
